2012

It's the beginning, whether you are a freshman just starting high school or senior about to tackle the last year-- we are always facing new beginnings. In high school there will always be things that are going to end, such as playing your last game in The Pit or performing in the last musical, however it is only the beginning to new opportunities.

Finally, it is a new year and freshmen are the "freshies" who are pushed to the back of the lunch line. Sophomores are stuck in the odd year as they are no longer freshmen but not consider upperclassmen. Juniors are almost to the top as they begin to get away with cutting in the lunch line for the chicken nuggets (that are so dearly loved). As for the seniors, it is our last year at North Scott and our time is going to be consumed with figuring out what our plans are after high school along with trying to make lasting memories. No matter who you are, just remember that when something ends, there is always a new beginning.

-Abby Kerling, Editor -in-Chief
-Abby Fredericksen, Co-Editor

It's a wrap

// During the past four years there have been many memories made that will never be forgotten. Whether it is being able to cut in the lunch line or being able to leave early—senior year is the year everyone looks forward to. Although, it is not as easy as it seems because our time is filled with completing college applications, applying for scholarships, or just preparing for the next level. Everything we have learned in high school, academically or not, we will take with us wherever we go. //

It's almost done

“ Junior year; the time when all that matters is everything but school, even though this year has taken the most effort. The luxuries that come along with junior year like leaving early & showing up late make it fly by. Preparing to be the big bad seniors we can't wait to become is right around the corner. All the talk about college and “the real world” is starting to actually take on some meaning. Sports, work, and all the time spent with friends makes it seem like that's all we will remember from our days in high school. When in reality what we're doing now in all the classes we take will shape us for who we're going to be. ”

It's half over

// I am not going to talk about how amazing and awesome sophomore year is...because it is not amazing or awesome. It is different from freshman year because it is not as exciting or new and it most definitely is not anything like being a junior or senior.

Sophomores are just kind of stuck, not a freshman but not an upperclassmen. Sophomore year is filled with too much homework and waking up too early (but thank God we don't have to go to freshman transition!). I cannot wait to get this year over with, be an upperclassman, and only have two more years! //

Freshman

It's a new life

“ High school...let's just say it is more work than 8th grade. Don't get us wrong though, it is so much better than junior high. We love playing sports at the high school level and having so many more options for classes than we did last year. It is also nice that we can drive to school and not have to park at the tennis courts like the seniors had to when they were freshman and sophomores. Block scheduling took some time to get used to and the fear of being lost or trash canned was gone after the first week. We also like being on the block schedules because we like being able to be with the upperclassmen...but Justin Kreiter scares us. High school is going to be a great experience and we are looking forward to next year ”

It's another day

“What is paradise? For some it might be a tropical beach, peace and quiet, or a long weekend. But for me... Paradise is when about 950 kids show up for school (ON TIME) with cheery smiles and great attitudes. How often does that happen? NEVER. But it is the best job ever because the excuses never end. So I guess thanks for the stories, it keeps me employed. **”

Student Life

It's fun

// Every year it is a tradition for students to dress up for many themed activities such as football, basketball, volleyball, etc. Even if we have hectic schedules there is always time for fun. Lancer spirit is more than watching the game or going to the event—but experiencing it. Lancer pride is going into the game knowing we will win, but no matter what happens we cheer our hearts out and stand proud to support our Lancers (maybe even lose our voices!). Whether we are a player, manager, or fan in the stands we will never forget the experiences and unity we built at North Scott. We stand as Lancers today, and will continue to forever...

GO LANCERS! //

Sports It's winning

“ Being a part of a team is something I have always enjoyed. North Scott has offered me a great place to play, The Pit—Home of the Lancers. I love the support from family and the fans for not only me, but also everyone else on the team. The feeling of hearing the crowd’s excitement is something I will never forget. I never expected having the opportunity I was given, but it shows hard work leads to success. ”

Academics

It's Learning

“North Scott has always taken pride in their academics. This year, with the expanded use of technology, students and staff became “plugged in” to their academic goals. Promethean Boards, freshman house computers, and Google sites for almost every class have allowed students to use technology as an extended way of learning. Also, with web accounts such as Moodle and GoogleDocs, students are breaking away from the traditional pencil and paper homework, tests, and projects and moving towards new ways to increase their knowledge through learning. ”

Performing Arts

// Whether it's band, choir, orchestra, speech, or drama, being involved in the Performing Arts is awesome funness. One of the most common regrets for seniors is having not been involved in these activities that offer such great opportunities. All of my best memories from high school involve the Arts and the people participating in them.

Whether it's hanging out backstage building sets and performing on them, going to Florida with the band, singing 'O Holy Night' with North Scott Singers, or staying at the school until late in the night before Speech competitions, the Performing Arts is a great way to get involved and make unforgettable memories. //

It's getting involved

“ So much has been given to me throughout my life, and clubs provide me with the opportunity to give back to the community. Being given the opportunity has truly been a blessing and I strongly encourage everyone to get involved. It provides a sense of pride, allows you to help those who are less fortunate, and sometimes even gets you out of school. ”

2012

We would like to thank the 2012 yearbook staff for all of their hardwork and dedication. This would not have been possible without everyone's help. Even though we had stressful and intense deadlines, we were still able to do it!

As for the class of 2012- we made it! The unending nights of typing papers for different classes and scholarships, quickly finishing homework assignments during lunch and of course trying to balance these things with family, friends, sports, clubs and jobs. Not to mention the fun nights cheering on the Lancers at football and basketball games. It has been a fun four years that none of us will ever forget. This might be an end to one chapter of our lives, but IT'S the beginning of a new one. Some of us will move on to college, some will move on to the trades, but one thing is for sure- it's not the end, it's the beginning.
